CHARGES BY HARTKE

DEWEY HUGHES: "Charges and more charges concerning the CIA and its underground financing activities with the latest chapter in that story WOL news man John Burnett."

BURNETT: "Another flap over Central Intelligence Agency involvement with the National Student Association. Senator Vance Hartke, a Democrat from Indiana, says the CIA pressed students into service as undercover agents during the 1965 revolution in the Dominican Republic. Hartke charges that the secret agencies sent the NSA students to Santo Domingo both before and during the fighting to compile dossier on Dominican student activities."

"Hartke also said the CIA threatened NSA leaders to keep them quiet about their role. And elsewhere it was reported in Denver that a newspaper there said the CIA used two labor unions to pump hundreds of thousands of dollars to undercover activities in Latin America and in the Middle East."

"This is John Burnett reporting from Washington."
